NIHR Academic Clinical Lecturer in Cardiology

School of Medicine

Leeds Institute of Cardiovascular and Metabolic Medicine

Do you want the opportunity to develop your existing academic experience in a supportive and inspirational environment where you can establish your clinical academic career?

Applications are invited for a NIHR Integrated Academic Training Clinical Lecturer post. The post is available for up to four years, according to the clinical training needs of the successful candidate to obtain a CCT. You will join the vibrant Integrated Clinical Academic Training programme at Leeds which provides a supportive research environment to develop independent, novel research alongside your clinical specialist training leading to full registration within the specialty programme and CCT. You will be awarded a training contract with the Regional Postgraduate Dean in the specialist registrar/specialty trainee grade (or equivalent), an honorary contract with the appropriate NHS Trust and you must already be at a minimum level of ST3.

The successful candidate will continue or establish a new research programme with opportunities to align to current staff members' research interests including, but not limited to the themes of cardiometabolic disease, cardiac imaging, data analytics, and heart failure. You will undertake internationally regarded research and have the benefit of senior academic support in making grant applications, as well as independent mentoring on career progression. You will also share responsibility for delivering high quality undergraduate and postgraduate teaching programmes.

You will hold (or have submitted) your PhD/MD at the time you apply and will provide evidence that you have been fully awarded your degree by the time you take up the post. The post is located in the Leeds Institute of Cardiovascular and Metabolic Medicine (LICAMM), University of Leeds and NHS Trust Premises at Leeds General Infirmary.

The successful applicant must be in post by 31 March 2019

What does the role entail?

As an NIHR Clinical Lecturer it is envisaged that five sessions of your time will be spent in innovative and scholarly research (including up to one session teaching) and for five sessions you will undertake appropriate clinical training.

Research;

You will be expected to achieve and maintain an active research portfolio both producing regular publications and developing the skills required to write successful research grant and Intermediate or Clinician Scientist Fellowship applications. Your research output would be expected to be of international quality as judged by the Research Excellence Framework 2014 standards. You would be expected to seek external peer review funding to support your research. There may be flexibility within the particular clinical training program to allow substantial periods of research without clinical commitment rather than combining both in the working week.

Research opportunities in Cardiology include clinical, translational and basic research projects in the broad of themes of:

- Cardiometabolic disease
- Cardiac Imaging
- Data Analytics
- Heart Failure

Teaching;

You will be expected to contribute to the organisation and delivery of undergraduate teaching throughout your clinical and research years. The administrative, preparation time and actual teaching would not exceed the equivalent of one session each week. During clinical periods the person would be expected to undertake teaching and training commitments as expected of other Specialist Registrars in training.

Clinical Activity;

You will enter into an appropriate year within the Specialist Training Programme. Rotations include posts in Leeds and other regional centres and units to meet the full current Royal College curriculum.

For further information please see APPENDIX 4

What will you bring to the role?

As a NIHR Academic Clinical Lecturer;

You must demonstrate appointability under both the Royal College of Physicians Clinical Person Specification and the NIHR Clinical Lectureship Academic Person Specification.

ACADEMIC PERSON SPECIFICATION - SEE APPENDIX 1

CLINICAL PERSON SPECIFICATION - SEE APPENDIX 3

As a qualified doctor you should obtain periodic registration with the GMC. You will be required to maintain such registration so long as you remain employed with the University of Leeds, confirming to your line manager that renewal has been carried out as required by the relevant professional organisation. You should produce documentation giving evidence of your registration upon request.

Please note: University of Leeds terms and conditions of employment will apply

How to apply

You can apply for this role online; more guidance can be found on our How to Apply information page. Applications should be submitted by 23.59 (UK time) on the advertised closing date.

Applications should include the following:

- A Curriculum Vitae
- NIHR Supplementary Questions for candidates form - SEE APPENDIX 2
- A Supporting Statement addressing the academic and clinical person specifications
