Discovery Theme Leader: Ethics, Religion and Law

Do you want to develop your existing curriculum enhancement and leadership skills to shape the academic experience of all students? Can you confidently lead the development of one of the Leeds Curriculum Discovery Themes?

Reflecting global challenges and the breadth of exciting disciplinary and interdisciplinary work at Leeds, Discovery Themes give our students the opportunity to pursue their interests and complement their core subject(s). We are looking to appoint a leader for the Ethics, Religion and Law Discovery Theme.

You will work collaboratively as part of the wider team of Discovery Theme Leaders to ensure that an integrated approach is taken to implementing, evaluating and further developing the Discovery Themes. You will help lead the development of the University’s approach to Discovery, working with colleagues in relevant schools and institutes in the delivery of Discovery Modules. You will be an experienced academic leader who is creative, innovative and enthusiastic about working in cross-disciplinary teams.

This role is offered to current members of staff for a period of three years, on a workload remission basis at current grade. Successful candidates might formally take up their appointment in for the start of semester 2, but a later start date would be considered.

What does the role entail?

Reporting to the Chair of Broadening, as Discovery Theme Leader your major duties will include:

- Refining, reviewing and evaluating the academic vision for, and approach to, the Discovery Theme as a means for developing and delivering distinctive, innovative and stimulating learning and teaching;
- Developing and implementing a practical plan for the development of the Discovery Theme;
- Working in partnership with students to develop the approach to Discovery Themes;
- Reviewing the portfolio of modules included in the Discovery Theme and liaising with colleagues in schools and faculties, and with other Discovery Theme
Leaders, to realise opportunities to develop, refine, rationalise and optimise that portfolio;

- Identifying opportunities for, and overseeing, the development of alternative methods of delivering Discovery Modules (including online and blended learning), as appropriate;
- Clarifying and reinforcing pathways for student progression within and through the Discovery Theme and liaising with other Discovery Theme Leaders to explore opportunities involving other Discovery Themes;
- Attending meetings of Discovery Theme Leaders to represent the Discovery Theme and participate in the leadership, planning, reporting and evaluation of the Discovery Themes;
- Representing the Discovery Theme at Discovery Theme Fairs, providing information, advice and guidance to students on their choice of Discovery Theme(s) and Module(s);
- Acting as an ambassador for Broadening and Discovery and contributing to communications (e.g. Leeds for Life website) within, across, and beyond the University;
- Promoting the academic vision of the Theme, Broadening, and the aims and achievements of the Leeds Curriculum in relevant national and international publications and conferences;
- Contributing to the overarching evaluation of the Leeds Curriculum;
- Exploring opportunities to work with colleagues in the Leeds Institute for Teaching Excellence (LITE) and to engage with LITE activities, as appropriate.

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade and nature of the post.

What will you bring to the role?

As Discovery Theme Leader, you will have:

- Qualification(s) in Higher Education (HE) learning and teaching, including Fellowship of the Higher Education Academy at a minimum level of FHEA;
- At least 5 years’ experience in a HE teaching capacity within relevant discipline areas;
- Demonstrable experience of research/scholarship, with involvement in, and awareness of, relevant research/scholarship agendas;
• Experience of working in partnership with students to enhance the student experience;
• Ability to work constructively in a multi-disciplinary team, a breadth of academic interest across disciplines and a commitment to interdisciplinary;
• Experience of imaginative and creative leadership in curriculum development projects in HE;
• Excellent planning, organisational, evaluation, communication and interpersonal skills, including the ability to negotiate with a range of stakeholders;
• Ability to work effectively alongside academic and professional colleagues from a range of disciplines/areas of expertise;
• A willingness to demonstrate initiative and to take responsibility;
• Credibility with academic colleagues and the ability to influence others to effect change.

You may also have:
• Involvement in University and/or faculty- or school-level Student Education committees.
