Contracts Manager (Clinical Trials) Research and Innovation Service

Do you want to be involved in negotiating, reviewing and drafting research and innovation contracts for clinical research, a growing and increasingly important sector in UK research? Are you pro-active and able to deliver to deadlines?

As a member of the Research and Innovation (RIS) Contracts Team, and the wider Research and Innovation Service Team, you will provide high quality, customer-focused research & innovation support contributing to the strategic objectives and research culture of the University.

The primary focus of this role is to provide contracts support to the Leeds Institute of Clinical Trials Research (LICTR), one of the UK's leading clinical trials research units, with particular responsibility for the review and negotiation of clinical research contracts, providing an expert focal point in contract negotiation with external sponsors and in the review of contract terms and conditions on behalf of the unit. You will have full training support from LICTR and RIS Contracts to develop the necessary knowledge of clinical research and the regulations which govern such research.

You will have a background in contract law and a proven track record of drafting, reviewing and negotiating contracts. The ability to work on your own initiative, to influence and reach decisions and excellent verbal and written communication skills are essential.

What does the role entail?

As a Contracts Manager your main duties will include:

- Reviewing research & innovation contracts presented by potential sponsors or collaborators to safeguard the University's ability to publish results, protect its intellectual property, share any commercially valuable results and maximise downstream revenue where possible and lead on coordinating comments to sponsors, funders and LICTR trial management staff;
- Ensuring that contractual terms meet the expectations of the LICTR staff concerned, comply with the University's obligations (including compliance with Medicines for Human Use and Data Protection Regulations) and are in line with applicable University policies, and are fair and reasonable terms that effectively manage the contractual risk to the University;

- Working with LICTR senior colleagues and trial management staff to develop standard negotiating positions and drafting contracts such as collaboration agreements, subcontracts and other research & innovation contracts (using precedent agreements and developing new templates) to present to potential sponsors or collaborators;
- Ensuring effective communication with LICTR to ensure awareness and understanding of the main obligations placed on them by a contract;
- Reviewing changes in the terms of major funding organisations with which LICTR works, disseminating this information across LICTR through written and verbal reports;
- Ensuring proposals are appropriately tracked (using internal systems) throughout the contract negotiation and acceptance stages and that they have been appropriately authorised by the University and partner organisations;
- Ensuring contract terms contain appropriate data for effective management of post-award financial reporting activities;
- Approving non-cash research agreements such as Non-Disclosure Agreements, Material Transfer and Data Sharing Agreements, as well as other research related agreements as appropriate;
- Working with LICTR to resolve contractual disputes, financial or otherwise which arise during the course of, or on completion of the projects;
- Any other duties which are commensurate with the grade of the post as required by your Line Manager.

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

What will you bring to the role?

As a Contracts Manager you will have:

- A law qualification or be qualified by relevant experience;
- Track record of drafting, reviewing and negotiating contracts;
- A sound knowledge and understanding of contract structure and law;
- An understanding of Intellectual Property and its processes;
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills;

- The ability to be pro-active, working on own initiative to influence and reach decisions, and deliver to deadlines;
- Demonstrative ability to multi-task and manage diverse workloads within the post-holders portfolio;
- A sound level of proficiency in the use of MS Office;
- A proven ability to think analytically and to be a proactive problem solver.

You may also have:

- Knowledge of clinical trial research funding, support and contracts within the HE sector;
- Experience of producing and presenting reports to peers and senior management.
