Operations, Administration and Project Support Officer National Centre for Atmospheric Science (NCAS), School of Earth and Environment, Faculty of Environment

Are you an effective administrator with experience of supporting the day-to-day operations of a busy department, office, hotel or meeting venue? Do you have experience of coordinating and delivering a range of in-person, online, and hybrid meetings and events? Can you prioritise a busy workload and do you thrive when given responsibility for a range of different projects and tasks? Would you like to play a core role in supporting the activities and projects of a world class scientific research centre?

The National Centre for Atmospheric Science (NCAS) is one of the six research centres supported by the Natural Environment Research Council (NERC). NCAS pursues long-term research in Climate and High Impact Weather, Air Pollution and Long-Term Global Change. In addition, NCAS provides UK research scientists and others with services and facilities in atmospheric science through the FAAM Airborne Laboratory, the Atmospheric Measurement and Observations Facility, the Centre for Environmental Data Analysis, and the Computational Modelling Services. The annual budget is approximately £30m. NCAS is entirely embedded within several universities and other organisations, including the universities of Leeds, Manchester, York, Reading and Cranfield along with the Rutherford Appleton Laboratory. NERC contracts the University of Leeds as the lead organisation, for NCAS, with the other organisations operating under sub-contracts. All NCAS staff are employed by their local institutions.

NCAS is seeking to employ a Operations, Administration, and Project Support Officer to join the NCAS Operations Team based at its headquarters in Leeds. This position is available as one full time role, or two 60% FTE part time roles. The previous role holder was promoted within the team to Operations Support and Projects Manager. As a core member of the team, you will have a varied role in supporting the effective operations and activities of the NCAS HQ building, training rooms, and meeting spaces. You will support the organisation and delivery of a wide range of online, hybrid, and in-person meetings and events, and you will be given responsibility for supporting the delivery of a range of projects and other activities across a wide-range of organisational and scientific areas.

NCAS works in partnership and collaboration with many organisations, and has staff and Directors hosted by a number of different universities. Whilst based in Leeds, you will provide support across NCAS. Occasional travel to other NCAS locations and meeting venues in the UK may be required, including occasional overnight stays.

The NCAS Operations Support and Administration Team are required to support the effective functioning of the NCAS HQ building which is open Monday to Friday. It is therefore an expectation that this role will require on-campus working.

Occasionally, additional hours and/or flexibility in working hours or days will be required leading up to and during certain large events and meetings. Occasional evening and weekend work, travel and overnight stays away from Leeds may also be required. Any additional hours will be repaid as overtime and/or as time off in lieu.

This role reports to the Operations Support and Projects Manager.

What does the role entail?

As an Operations, Administration and Project Support Officer your main duties will include:

- General Responsibilities - HQ Operations Support and Administration:
  - Organising and administering a range of internal and external meetings and events, including confirming dates and attendee availability; processing registrations and payments; booking space, catering, travel and accommodation; producing delegate lists, delegate packs and name badges; logistical and administrative support including set-up, note taking, and post-event follow up including feedback and sharing meeting notes and actions;
  - Undertaking a range of duties, providing operational support for the effective management of NCAS HQ office space, training rooms and meeting facilities. This includes, completion of building and compliance checks, maintenance reporting and monitoring, visitor management, keys and access control, building inductions for new staff, acting as a designated Fire Warden, ordering office supplies and other services, servicing meetings and meeting space, tidying kitchen / communal areas, ensuring hospitality provision etc.;
  - Acting as the first point of contact for enquiries (telephone, email, post, in person), managing assigned email inboxes, responding professionally

- and using judgment and discretion in resolving, holding, referring, or forwarding as appropriate;
- Contributing to the efficiency and effectiveness of administrative systems and operational processes, taking responsibility for identifying areas for improvement and ensuring that systems and procedures are well documented, updated, and appropriately shared;
  - Developing and maintaining excellent working relationships with a wide variety of contacts including senior NCAS staff, NERC Centre Directors and other stakeholders across NCAS, host universities, and the Natural Environment community;
  - Providing temporary cover and support for other members of the team as and when required;
  - Project Specific Support:
    - Providing administrative and operational support for assigned NCAS projects and initiatives including proactively organising, promoting, and supporting a range of events and training courses, such as meetings, seminars, forums, workshops, and summer schools;
    - Providing full administrative and organisational support for a range of meetings/committees; distributing agendas, papers and joining instructions; recording meeting notes, actions and agreements; and liaising with action owners to track the progress of actions;
    - Creating, populating and maintaining document management systems and microsites to support projects, events, courses, meetings and committees;
    - Supporting the collection and collation of data and information required for internal and external reporting and compliance.

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

What will you bring to the role?

As an Operations, Administration, and Project Support Officer, you will have:

- Experience of working in, and supporting the effective day-to-day operations of, a busy department, office, hotel, meeting venue, or similar, demonstrating experience in organising and delivering a range of in-person, virtual, and hybrid meetings, events including planning, administration, venue booking, set-up, registration, and follow-up feedback;

- Excellent IT skills, including experience in the use of Microsoft Office 365 software including Word, Excel, and PowerPoint (or equivalent), working with databases and mailing lists, and experience of using video conference systems in a work environment and/or meetings and events context;
- Effective time management and organisational skills, with the ability to prioritise, manage and meet tight or conflicting deadlines, work effectively under pressure, and balance the needs of a range of different stakeholders;
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills with the ability to convey complex information in a clear and concise manner, to a high degree of accuracy, and with excellent attention to detail;
- Excellent customer service and problem solving skills with the ability to work as part of a team and on own initiative, offering a creative, flexible and positive approach to addressing challenging situations or circumstances and contributing positively to overall team objectives;
- Willingness to work flexibly at times, which will include traveling to attend and support meetings and events nationally; requiring some extended days, with occasional evening and weekend working, sometimes involving overnight stays. This will be discussed and agreed in advance.

You may also have:

- Experience of working in a Scientific Research Centre or similar environment;
- Experience in the use of G Suite Tools (Google Drive, Calendars, Sites, Docs, Sheets), website administration, and content management systems;
- Knowledge and understanding of basic building maintenance, including conducting building checks and fault reporting.
