

UNIVERSITY OF LEEDS

CANDIDATE BRIEF

Post-Doctoral Research Fellowship

Leeds University Business School

Salary: Grade 7 (£37,099 – £44,263 p.a., depending on experience)

Reference: LUBSC1719

Fixed term (2 years because the post is a training/discrete placement)

Location: University of Leeds (Main campus) (with scope for hybrid working)

We are open to discussing flexible working arrangements.

Overview of the Role

Are you an aspiring researcher looking to further your career in one of the UK's leading research-intensive Universities and receive a structured programme of support? Do you have a research background in Accounting & Finance, Analytics, Technology and Operations, Economics, International Business, Management and Organisations, Marketing, and Work & Employment Relations?

Leeds University Business School (LUBS) is a full service business school built on the rigour of disciplinary strength while working in a pluralistic way to deliver impactful research and education. With a research environment judged to be conducive to producing world leading and internationally excellent research by the REF 2021 panel, the Faculty is investing substantially in the further development of this environment through the Faculty's two year Post Doctoral Fellowship Scheme. We are looking for enthusiastic and highly motivated individuals who can make a significant contribution to our research activities. You will receive a structured programme of support. Dedicated mentors will work with you and advise you on journal article preparation and submission, grant application, and new research and career trajectories. You will also have opportunities to develop teaching skills by undertaking teaching duties at definite, identifiable points in the year.

Main duties and responsibilities

- Work on submission of high-quality journal articles that have the potential to be world leading quality in terms of their rigour, significance and originality – that is 4* as judged by REF criteria. The expectation of one article submission per year;
- Explore and start-up a new track of research, with some preliminary data collection during year one and more fully developed ideas during year two. This would be facilitated by involvement with established and emerging teams of researchers in a department/research centre, connected to the core research themes of the department/research centre. By the end of year 2, the expectation would be that the post-doctoral fellow would be in a position to apply for an individual grant, or play a significant part in a collaborative grant proposal;
- Develop career plans via ongoing, structured mentoring, with appropriate colleagues within a department/research centre;

- Where appropriate, contribute towards UG and/or PG student education activities for up to 10% of workload hours, which currently equivalent to 165 hours. These activities include personal tutoring, teaching, marking and responding to student feedback and the provision of timely assessment and feedback, and supervising and marking dissertations;
- Mentor post-graduate research students in a department/research centre;
- Participate in and contribute to the research culture, including regular attendance at workshops, meetings, collaborative initiatives, blog writing, and external conferences.

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

Qualifications and skills

Essential

- Recently completed PhD, or a PhD that will be submitted within three months of starting the fellowship, in accounting & finance, business analytics, economics, human resource management, and employment relations, marketing, international business, and management. If the PhD has not been completed strong evidence of potential to submit within the first three months of the fellowship will be needed;
- Experience of research dissemination, such as articles submitted to journals, conference papers, workshop presentations, book reviews or blog;
- Teaching experience, such as seminar support and dissertation supervision;
- Well-developed methodological skills, either in the conduct of qualitative or quantitative techniques, supported by recognised doctoral training of high quality (such as at an ESRC recognised Doctoral Training Partnership);
- Excellent presentation skills, both in terms of written work and oral delivery;
- A record of training in advanced research skills;
- A proven ability to work well both individually and in a team;
- A strong commitment to your own continuous professional development.

Additional information

How to apply

You can apply for this role online; more guidance can be found on our How to Apply information page. Applications should be submitted by 23.59 (UK time) on the advertised closing date.

In addition to the application form candidates will be asked to submit

- Full Curriculum vitae, including any examples of academic awards and prizes;
- A proposal for the post-doctoral fellowship (maximum of 4 sides of A4) – to include plans for the development of key publications and an outline for how your research will be developed through a new research project. It is important that the proposal should clearly connected to the research themes of LUBS (see the link here for more information);
- Statement from PhD supervisors about the applicant's academic potential, in terms of career development, publications and how they would benefit from a position in LUBS;
- Supporting statement from proposed LUBS research mentors about the plans for the fellowship (it is essential that candidates contact potential mentors to discuss and agree this before making an application);
- Example of written work, such as a PhD chapter, a conference paper or draft article. If the work has been submitted to an academic Journal and is currently at advanced stages of the peer review process (e.g., Revise and Resubmit), please provide the decision letter from the Journal editorial team and the comments from the Reviewers.
