NIHR RESEARCH DELIVERY NETWORK COORDINATING CENTRE

Salary Grade: 7

Reporting to: Senior RDN Communications Manager

Reference: MHNCC1598

RDN COMMUNICATIONS MANAGER

Reports to: Senior RDN Communications Manager

Overview of the Role

The University of Leeds has been chosen by the UK government to lead the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC), and will be joined by 12 new Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs), hosted by NHS organisations across the country to form the NIHR Research Delivery Network (RDN). The new NIHR RDN will operate as one unified organisation across England, balancing regional context, expertise and leadership with national coordination and strategy involving government policymakers. The RDNCC will work across England's health and care system, with staff in all settings, to support the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of research.

You will be responsible for leading the operational delivery of planning, management and evaluation of communications projects and channels across the RDN. In addition, you will work closely with the NIHR Communications Office.

You will work collaboratively with colleagues within the RDNCC and, as required, across the RDN and the University of Leeds, and with external stakeholders in a host of settings. You will support the operational delivery of the organisation-wide shift in ways of working and culture that is required to ensure the network functions as a single organisation with a shared purpose and vision across England, as well as mutually supporting colleagues through the period of transformation and beyond.

This role requires national travel.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Common duties and responsibilities for RDNCC Grade 7 roles

Ensure the effective coordination and delivery of key activities and projects within the function in line with organisational policies and priorities.

Support the management and coordination of the function's resources, recruiting, training and managing staff and providing input into the function's service improvement plans and strategic objectives.

Providing operational oversight, support, and professional expertise, both within the team and to stakeholders.

Producing high quality plans, briefing documents and/or reports for stakeholders and decision makers and/or for project or programme boards, including the analysis and presentation of data and management information.

Working collaboratively with RDNCC colleagues and stakeholders across the RDN and NIHR and the University of Leeds and externally, facilitating discussions and actively participating in groups and meetings in order to influence discussions, events and opinions to achieve operational objectives.

Make independent decisions, advise colleagues and senior leadership and lead or proactively input into service improvement initiatives to support the achievement of operational objectives and future direction. Identify opportunities, risks and optimal solutions to problems, analysing options and considering precedent to determine the best course of action.

Demonstrating personal leadership in terms of being focussed, flexible, professional, motivated and personally effective.

Duties and responsibilities specific to this role

1. Developing and implementing communications plans to support a wide range of multi-channel projects and campaigns aimed at a variety of audiences in line with the RDN and NIHR's communications strategies.
2. Identifying, translating and disseminating complex messages about RDN's services and NIHR activity into clear and compelling communications messages demonstrating RDN's impact for a range of stakeholders including patients, health and care professionals and the life sciences industry.
3. Creating, maintaining and reviewing digital content including social media, e-newsletters and public facing websites, making use of content management systems, SEO techniques and user feedback.

4. Briefing and commissioning work from external suppliers to support planned projects or campaigns, ensuring that use of resources represent value for money and are properly accounted for.
5. Working in effective partnership with others across the RDN to support their communications requirements and specific projects requiring communications expertise.
6. Ensuring that communications support is consistent with the RDN and NIHR's corporate objectives, organisational values and brand, and reflects, promotes and enhances our position in relation to delivery of research and its benefit to patients and the public and the UK life sciences sector.
7. Supporting the Senior Leaders in the RDN Communications team and providing general communications support to the RDN as required.

Other duties

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND EXPERIENCE

Essential requirements for all RDNCC grade 7 roles

- The ability to support organisational change and transformation programmes in a positive and proactive way, and to provide mutual support and motivation to colleagues through substantial organisational and cultural change.
- The ability to develop operational plans that will support delivery of objectives and priorities.
- Creative, flexible, and self-motivated with the ability to work and deliver to deadlines and manage competing priorities.

Additional information

NIHR Research Delivery Network

The National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) is funded by the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC). NIHR works in partnership with the NHS, universities, local government, other research funders, patients and the public. The NIHR funds, enables and delivers world-leading health and social care research that improves people's health and wellbeing and promotes economic growth. NIHR is a major funder of applied health research in low and middle-income countries. Further information on the NIHR can be found at www.nihr.ac.uk.

As part of NIHR, the Research Delivery Network (RDN) supports the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of funded research across the health and care system in England for the benefit of patients, the health and care system and the economy. The scope and purpose of RDN is to support:

- Clinical trials and other well-designed health and social care research studies (including studies that are delivered outside of an NHS setting).
- Public health studies that require the recruitment of individuals within an NHS setting (that is, acute, ambulance, mental health, community, or primary care) or an episode of care which involves contact with the NHS.

The whole of England will be supported through 12 NIHR Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs). The RRDNs will work with the national Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC) to provide a joint RDN leadership function so that the NIHR RDN as a whole functions as a single organisation with a shared vision and purpose across England.

The University of Leeds is the provider of the RDNCC, working with and on behalf of DHSC. The University will be the employer for this role.
