

RDN COMMUNICATIONS COORDINATOR NIHR RESEARCH DELIVERY NETWORK COORDINATING CENTRE

Salary Grade: 6

Reporting to: RDN Communications Manager

Reference: MHNCC1618

RDN COMMUNICATIONS COORDINATOR

Reports to: RDN Senior Communications Manager

Overview of the Role

The University of Leeds has been chosen by the UK government to lead the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC) and will be joined by 12 new Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs), hosted by NHS organisations across the country to form the NIHR Research Delivery Network (RDN). The new NIHR RDN will operate as one unified organisation across England, balancing regional context, expertise and leadership with national coordination and strategy involving government policymakers. The RDNCC will work across England's health and care system, with staff in all settings, to support the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of research.

You will be responsible for delivery of communications for a variety of projects and channels including digital, media, events, internal communications and promotional materials. In addition, you will work closely with the NIHR Communications Office.

You will work collaboratively with colleagues within the RDNCC and, as required, across the RDN and the University of Leeds, and with external stakeholders in a host of settings. You will support the operational delivery of the organisation-wide shift in ways of working and culture that is required to ensure the network functions as a single organisation with a shared purpose and vision across England, as well as mutually supporting colleagues through the period of transformation and beyond.

This role requires national travel.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Common duties and responsibilities for RDNCC Grade 6 roles

Support the effective coordination and delivery of activities and projects within the function in line with organisational policies and priorities. Monitoring activities against planned timelines and outcomes, identifying issues that may affect delivery and implementing or recommending solutions.

Work as an effective member of the team, providing support to colleagues and being involved in recruitment, training and supervision of staff and proactively inputting into the function's service improvement plans and objectives.

Providing operational support and professional expertise, both within the team and to stakeholders.

Working collaboratively with RDNCC colleagues, engaging with stakeholders, and actively participating in groups and meetings in order to contribute to discussions, events and opinions to review processes, implement service improvements and support the achievement of operational objectives.

Make independent decisions about your own work and provide specialist advice and guidance to colleagues and stakeholders to resolve problems and queries and inform decision-making, including analysing and presenting data and management information.

Demonstrate a positive approach to work in terms of being focussed, flexible, professional, motivated, and personally effective.

Additional information

NIHR Research Delivery Network

The National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) is funded by the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC). NIHR works in partnership with the NHS, universities, local government, other research funders, patients and the public. The NIHR funds, enables and delivers world-leading health and social care research that improves people's health and wellbeing and promotes economic growth. NIHR is a major funder of applied health research in low and middle-income countries. Further information on the NIHR can be found at www.nihr.ac.uk.

As part of NIHR, the Research Delivery Network (RDN) supports the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of funded research across the health and care system in England for the benefit of patients, the health and care system and the economy. The scope and purpose of RDN is to support:

- Clinical trials and other well-designed health and social care research studies (including studies that are delivered outside of an NHS setting).
- Public health studies that require the recruitment of individuals within an NHS setting (that is, acute, ambulance, mental health, community, or primary care) or an episode of care which involves contact with the NHS.

The whole of England will be supported through 12 NIHR Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs). The RRDNs will work with the national Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC) to provide a joint RDN leadership function so that the NIHR RDN as a whole functions as a single organisation with a shared vision and purpose across England.

The University of Leeds is the provider of the RDNCC, working with and on behalf of DHSC. The University will be the employer for this role.
