

NATIONAL COSTING AND ATTRIBUTION MANAGER
NIHR RESEARCH DELIVERY NETWORK COORDINATING CENTRE

Salary Grade: 7

Reporting to: National Costing and Attribution Lead

Role ID: MHNCC1642

National Costing and Attribution Manager

Reports to: National Costing and Attribution Lead

Overview of the Role

The University of Leeds has been chosen by the UK government to lead the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC), and will be joined by 12 new Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs), hosted by NHS organisations across the country to form the NIHR Research Delivery Network (RDN). The new NIHR RDN will operate as one unified organisation across England, balancing regional context, expertise and leadership with national coordination and strategy involving government policymakers. The RDNCC will work across England's health and care system, with staff in all settings, to support the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of research.

You will be responsible for managing the processes required to oversee cost attribution and assure the content of the costing tools (SoECAT/ICT) are available to funders, sites and sponsors. You will be responsible for managing the use of these data to drive the National Contract Value Review process, excess treatment cost payment and to help networks assess study support cost burden.

You will work collaboratively with colleagues within the RDNCC and, as required, across the RDN and the University of Leeds, and with external stakeholders in a host of settings. You will support the operational delivery of the organisation-wide shift in ways of working and culture that is required to ensure the network functions as a single organisation with a shared purpose and vision across England, as well as mutually supporting colleagues and managing your own team through the period of transformation and beyond.

This role may require some national travel

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Common duties and responsibilities for RDNCC Grade 7 roles

Ensure the effective coordination and delivery of key activities and projects within the function in line with organisational policies and priorities.

Support the management and coordination of the function's resources, recruiting, training and managing staff and providing input into the function's service improvement plans and strategic objectives.

Providing operational oversight, support, and professional expertise, both within the team and to stakeholders.

Producing high quality plans, briefing documents and/or reports for stakeholders and decision makers and/or for project or programme boards, including the analysis and presentation of data and management information.

Working collaboratively with RDNCC colleagues and stakeholders across the RDN and NIHR and the University of Leeds and externally, facilitating discussions and actively participating in groups and meetings in order to influence discussions, events and opinions to achieve operational objectives.

Make independent decisions, advise colleagues and senior leadership and lead or proactively input into service improvement initiatives to support the achievement of operational objectives and future direction. Identify opportunities, risks and optimal solutions to problems, analysing options and considering precedent to determine the best course of action.

Demonstrating personal leadership in terms of being focussed, flexible, professional, motivated and personally effective.

Duties and responsibilities specific to this role

1. Responsible for the direct line management of staff, which will include undertaking staff reviews to identify training and development needs and establishing how those needs will be met and managing performance against agreed objectives.
2. Utilise operational process measures and customer feedback to oversee the delivery of the Cost and Attribution services and support continual improvements.
3. Develop and maintain effective working relationships with RRDN colleagues across the RDN, and equivalents in the devolved administrations to ensure delivery of consistent and high quality service to all customers.
4. Oversee any technology or communication system developments to improve the service delivery and therefore customer experience, including prioritisation of changes and communications of benefits.

5. Support the national community of AcoRD specialists, identifying and signposting training and assisting in proactive conversations thereby ensuring consistent standards of practice and competency across all areas of cost attribution.
6. Engage with, maintain and develop relationships with commercial stakeholders to ensure training needs and system requirements are met, evaluated and compiled to ensure quality in commercial submissions. This may involve working with other functions, for example business development or other parts of the NIHR infrastructure such as UK CRF network or ECMCs.
7. Responsible for managing, maintaining and highlighting data elements within all costing and attribution systems and suggesting improvements on data capture and accessibility requirements

Other duties

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND EXPERIENCE

Additional information

NIHR Research Delivery Network

The National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) is funded by the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC). NIHR works in partnership with the NHS, universities, local government, other research funders, patients and the public. The NIHR funds, enables and delivers world-leading health and social care research that improves people's health and wellbeing and promotes economic growth. NIHR is a major funder of applied health research in low and middle-income countries. Further information on the NIHR can be found at www.nihr.ac.uk.

As part of NIHR, the Research Delivery Network (RDN) supports the effective and efficient initiation and delivery of funded research across the health and care system in England for the benefit of patients, the health and care system and the economy. The scope and purpose of RDN is to support:

- Clinical trials and other well-designed health and social care research studies (including studies that are delivered outside of an NHS setting).
- Public health studies that require the recruitment of individuals within an NHS setting (that is, acute, ambulance, mental health, community, or primary care) or an episode of care which involves contact with the NHS.

The whole of England will be supported through 12 NIHR Regional Research Delivery Networks (RRDNs). The RRDNs will work with the national Research Delivery Network Coordinating Centre (RDNCC) to provide a joint RDN leadership function so that the NIHR RDN as a whole functions as a single organisation with a shared vision and purpose across England.

The University of Leeds is the provider of the RDNCC, working with and on behalf of DHSC. The University will be the employer for this role.
