Overview of the Role

Are you an academic with the ambition to contribute to the further development of Analytics and AI for Business research and teaching, at Leeds University Business School? Are you passionate about delivering world-leading research and an exceptional student experience in a Russell Group University?

As Lecturer, you will be joining the Analytics, Technology and Operations Department (ATOD) within Leeds University Business School. You will have the opportunity to be a member of the Research Centres operating within the ATOD Department, including the world-renown Centre for Decision Research, as well as other rich research communities in LUBS. You will carry out research, teaching and management within and contribute to academic leadership in the field of business with specific emphasis on Analytics and AI for Business.

This is an exciting opportunity to become a part of a very successful teaching and research team in our growing Business School here at the University of Leeds.

We are seeking individuals who can deliver research-led teaching in a wide range of topics related to Analytics and AI for Business. There are opportunities to teach in many areas related to Analytics and AI for Business, among which: Business Analytics, Optimisation and AI for Business, Applied AI in Business, Evidence based Consultancy, Machine Learning in Practice, Data Analytics in Business, Visualising and Analysing Data Effectively, Business Analytics and Decision Science, Forecasting and Advanced Business Analytics.

Main duties and responsibilities

- Undertaking research-led teaching in core modules at different levels, including assessment and examinations, leading module design, and contributing towards review and quality assurance mechanisms;
- Providing support and guidance to students, providing timely feedback, resolving issues and/or referring to specialist parties, where appropriate;
- Being actively involved in research, innovation and impact at a national and international level, as well as contributing to activity within the Department;
- Maintaining a record of high quality publications of national and international standing;

- Promoting the integration of your own research area with other research interests within and, as appropriate, outside the Department;
- Providing research supervision and helping to attract students to the University;
- Contributing effectively to the administrative processes and committee structures of the Department and School/Faculty (Leeds University Business School is both a School and a Faculty), including taking on leadership roles and managing initiatives which facilitate Departmental, School/Faculty or University performance or business;
- Being an active member of the team supporting colleagues and participating in Departmental research and extra-curricular teaching activities.

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

Qualifications and skills

Essential

- A PhD in Business Analytics, Management Science, Data Science for Business, Artificial Intelligence for Business, or a closely related discipline in the area of Analytics and AI for Business;
- Ability to contribute to and develop interdisciplinary collaborative research projects;
- Ability to perform high quality research in Analytics and AI for Business, with a proven track record of world-class achievements commensurate with career stage, and the potential to achieve a high-quality record of regular publications in independently peer reviewed journals of world-class quality;
- A proven record of teaching in a University or professional environment, with an enthusiastic approach to teaching and the ability to interact with students in ways that will enhance the student experience;
- Experience of proactively developing new teaching approaches and materials including an awareness of the potential of current educational technological advances in learning and teaching;
- A high level of interpersonal and communication skills, and the ability to collaborate effectively with peers and inspire colleagues and students;
- A willingness to engage in Impact and Engagement activities.
