Research Fellow in Data Governance and Global Health (CholOut-EWS Project)

School of Politics and International Studies (POLIS)

Overview of the Role

Are you an ambitious early-career researcher with expertise in global health, data governance, or climate-sensitive infectious disease systems? Do you want to contribute to high-impact, interdisciplinary research in one of the UK's leading research-intensive universities?

We are seeking a highly motivated Research Fellow to support the completion of the CholOut-EWS project. This post will synthesise project findings, finalise the end-of-project report, and lead a publication focused on data governance within early warning systems.

Main duties and responsibilities

- Designing, planning, and conducting analytical and qualitative synthesis work
- Leading drafting of the final project report and a peer-reviewed publication
- Liaising with international partners and coordinating cross-country inputs
- Supporting communication with the funding organisation
- Disseminating research through publication and presentations
- Working collaboratively across UK and Bangladesh teams
- Evaluating project methods and results for synthesis work
- Contributing to a safe, inclusive working environment

These duties provide a framework for the role and should not be regarded as a definitive list. Other reasonable duties may be required consistent with the grade of the post.

Qualifications and skills

Essential

- PhD (or near completion) in global health, public policy, development studies, or similar
- Experience in data governance, qualitative synthesis, and stakeholder liaison

- Ability to independently design, execute, and write research
- Strong publication record
- Excellent communication and time management skills
- Teamwork skills and attention to detail

Desirable

- Experience working in LMIC contexts.
- Experience with early warning systems or digital health tools
- Evidence of pursuing external research funding

How to apply

You can apply for this role online; more guidance can be found on our How to Apply information page. Applications should be submitted by 23.59 (UK time) on the advertised closing date.
